THE WORLD'S FIRST AND ONLY FULL-SERVICE SOCIAL NETWORKING SITE
FOCUSED ON CHRIST-CENTERED CONTENT

With Jesus at the helm, Adonis T. Adams created ChristTube LLC, a company whose primary vision is to promote the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Operating under the distinct name of www.ChristTube.com, Adams received this God-inspired and ordained vision to align ministry with state-of-the-art technology. ChristTube is a portal that pushes beyond traditional brick and mortar to give the end-users the ability to connect with other Christians around the globe, regardless of denomination, race or ethnicity. The unifying element is their belief in Jesus Christ.

Formed in 2005, Adams began developing the framework for ChristTube.com to blend innovations in Christian social networking and Web 3.0 services and beyond. Adams' 17+ years of experience in technology, communications marketing and entrepreneurial know-how has prepared him for such a time as this.

Before ChristTube LLC, Adams owned and operated a successful Internet company, www.hometrader.tv. Hometrader allowed the consumer to control their real estate buying process by giving them access to listings and information previously only available to agents and brokers. The site reached 1,000,000 unique visitors during its first month online via a self-directed marketing strategy.

Adams also previously owned Code Events, an event marketing and promotion company based in Atlanta, GA. His Code Events clients included companies from the corporate, sports and entertainment sectors. In addition to the marketing company, Adams was successful in participating and consulting on multiple real-estate investment projects throughout the Atlanta area.

Before his leap into the marketing and promotion field, Adams' 10+ years in the technology industry was honed with companies such as Booz Allen & Hamilton, Coopers & Lybrand, Ernst & Young and A&T Consulting. Trained as a network architect and engineer and certified as a Cisco Certified Internetwork and Nortel Networks communication engineer, Adams was instrumental in configuring, installing and maintaining corporate network systems. While owning his own consulting company, A&T Consulting, Adams received numerous contracts while working at the Pentagon upon departing the U.S. Army after a 4-year stint.

As a misguided youth growing up in his hometown Washington, D.C., Adams made wrong choices as a "street entrepreneur." But God! Today, Adams' life is a testament to the transforming power of the Holy Spirit working to fulfill his God-ordained destiny through ChristTube, which officially launched in March 2012.

Adams and his wife currently live in the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area with their three daughters.

Extranet Services

The Extranet Services allows all denominations, fellowships, organizations, non-profits and large Christian associations to control, develop and manage their entire body of members, churches, partners, donors, and leadership from a centralized social network infrastructure. The Extranet service partnership offering is determined exclusively by ChristTube leadership. Please note: this is NOT a public or paid service offering.

What that means is Extranet Services are absolutely free. Regardless of whether you have an existing web presence, as an extranet partner ChristTube will share 15% of all revenue gained from the denomination's pastors, churches, bishops and members in the form of an offering back to the denomination. As a result, ChristTube is slated to become the largest contributor and first-ever sower of this magnitude in the Body of Christ with all of its partners.

In addition, ChristTube gives each profile member the ability to GENERATE REVENUE from their own personal ChristTube page.

For churches with or without websites, this is a win-win situation. ChristTube's Intranet service offers ministries the ability to post ministry information, pastor communications, cell and small group ministries, e-vite services and so much more.
